

College Access Volunteer Opportunities

Admission Possible

450 North Syndicate Street, #200
St. Paul, MN 55104

Contact: (651) 917-3525

<http://www.admissionpossible.org>

Admission Possible is a nonprofit organization dedicated to helping promising, low-income students from the Twin Cities obtain admission to college.

Advancement Via Individual Determination (AVID)

Various St. Paul Public School Sites

Contact: Darlene Fry, (651) 793-5532

<http://www.avidonline.org>

AVID targets students in the academic middle who have the intention of going to college and the willingness to work hard. Volunteers apply to a specific high school in St. Paul or Minneapolis to work as tutors with a small group of students. Their teaching methodology is based on the Socratic Method, where tutors emphasize students' inquiries, rather than lectures.

Breakthrough Collaborative

2051 Larpenteur Avenue

St. Paul, MN 55109

Contact: Emily Stahly, (651) 748-5504

<http://www.breakthroughsaintpaul.org>

Breakthrough Saint Paul is a program that helps highly motivated, under-resourced middle school students from St. Paul Public Schools succeed in rigorous honors coursework and get to college. Breakthrough Saint Paul employs a "Students Teaching Students" model of education common to all 29 programs in The Breakthrough Collaborative. For six weeks during the summer and on 13 Saturdays during the school year, students take challenging enrichment classes designed and taught by talented and diverse high school and college students.

Get Ready!

1450 Energy Park Drive, Suite 350

St. Paul, MN 55108

Contact: Eleanor Prudy, (651) 642-0567

<http://www.getreadyforcollege.org>

Get Ready! is an early intervention and college awareness program preparing students from low-income families to get to college. The program prepares elementary, middle and high school students for post-secondary education by providing college planning information, academic tutoring and higher education options. Volunteers can work as career speakers, where they share their career path and experiences to inspire fourth to eight graders about their own career options.

Neighborhood House

179 Robie Street East

Saint Paul, MN 55107

Vol. Coord: SinYing Lee, (651) 789-2500

<http://www.neighb.org>

Neighborhood House is a multi-cultural, multi-lingual center with programs in basic needs, education and youth leadership. Volunteers assist in or teach ELL classes, supervise and tutor youth, or help learners prepare for the GED.

Minnesota Minority Education Partnership

2233 University Avenue West, Suite 220

St. Paul, MN 55114-1698

Contact: Amanda Ziebell-Finley, (651) 645-7400, x204

<http://www.mmep.net>

The Minnesota Minority Education Partnership, Inc. is a nonprofit that seeks to increase the success of Minnesota students of color in Minnesota schools, colleges and universities. They work closely with students, communities of color and representatives from education, business, government and nonprofits to develop programs that help students of color succeed academically.

Issue Area Coordinator: Sue Xiong, x6040 or
sxiong@macalester.edu

Updated June 2009

RELATED LINKS

West Metro Education Program (WMEP)

<http://www.wmep.k12.mn.us>

WMEP is a group of 11 Minneapolis school districts, both suburban and urban, working in consortium to address issues of integration in public schools. The site includes information for families living in the west metro area to improve the quality of their children's education, as well as helpful resources for anyone looking to learn about issues of integration and equal education opportunities.

Students.Gov

<http://www.students.gov>

This official United States government web site is designed for college students and their families. Provides access to information and resources to help students choose the right college, apply for financial aid/scholarships, find summer internships or jobs, etc.

Pathways to College Network

<http://www.pathwaystocollege.net>

This network strives to improve access to higher education for children from low-income, poorly represented or minority backgrounds through research and the propagation of information. The site includes online access to reports, studies and other resources for middle school, high school, and college students, as well as teachers, parents and counselors.

College is Possible (CIP)

<http://www.collegeispossible.org>

College is Possible is a youth development program of the American Council on Education (ACE), a program committed to helping middle and high school students attend college, with an emphasis on college access for those students from underserved communities. CIP strives to build connections between colleges and the schools in their surrounding communities. The website includes resources for choosing, preparing, and paying for college.

Mapping Your Future

<http://mapping-your-future.org>

This website contains tips, articles and links to other online resources for planning for college and careers. Whether you are a middle school student, a graduate student, or parent, this website has information specifically tailored to you and your demographic.

Plan for College-College Board

<http://www.collegeboard.com/student/plan>

This website provides resources for planning and preparing for college in high school. It emphasizes not just academic preparation for high school students, but also the transition to college life that must be addressed and prepared for.

Adventures in Education (AIE)

<http://www.adventuresineducation.org>

Adventures in Education is a non-profit organization that works to help students go to college through its accessible website (available in English and Spanish). The site contains links, tips, and articles for everyone from middle school students to parents.

College Access Volunteer Opportunities

Admission Possible

450 North Syndicate Street, #200
St. Paul, MN 55104

Contact: (651) 917-3525

<http://www.admissionpossible.org>

Admission Possible is a nonprofit organization dedicated to helping promising, low-income students from the Twin Cities obtain admission to college.

Advancement Via Individual Determination (AVID)

Various St. Paul Public School Sites

Contact: Darlene Fry, (651) 793-5532

<http://www.avidonline.org>

AVID targets students in the academic middle who have the intention of going to college and the willingness to work hard. Volunteers apply to a specific high school in St. Paul or Minneapolis to work as tutors with a small group of students. Their teaching methodology is based on the Socratic Method, where tutors emphasize students' inquiries, rather than lectures.

Breakthrough Collaborative

2051 Larpenteur Avenue

St. Paul, MN 55109

Contact: Emily Stahly, (651) 748-5504

<http://www.breakthroughsaintpaul.org>

Breakthrough Saint Paul is a program that helps highly motivated, under-resourced middle school students from St. Paul Public Schools succeed in rigorous honors coursework and get to college. Breakthrough Saint Paul employs a "Students Teaching Students" model of education common to all 29 programs in The Breakthrough Collaborative. For six weeks during the summer and on 13 Saturdays during the school year, students take challenging enrichment classes designed and taught by talented and diverse high school and college students.

Get Ready!

1450 Energy Park Drive, Suite 350

St. Paul, MN 55108

Contact: Eleanor Prudy, (651) 642-0567

<http://www.getreadyforcollege.org>

Get Ready! is an early intervention and college awareness program preparing students from low-income families to get to college. The program prepares elementary, middle and high school students for post-secondary education by providing college planning information, academic tutoring and higher education options. Volunteers can work as career speakers, where they share their career path and experiences to inspire fourth to eight graders about their own career options.

Neighborhood House

179 Robie Street East

Saint Paul, MN 55107

Vol. Coord: SinYing Lee, (651) 789-2500

<http://www.neighb.org>

Neighborhood House is a multi-cultural, multi-lingual center with programs in basic needs, education and youth leadership. Volunteers assist in or teach ELL classes, supervise and tutor youth, or help learners prepare for the GED.

Minnesota Minority Education Partnership

2233 University Avenue West, Suite 220

St. Paul, MN 55114-1698

Contact: Amanda Ziebell-Finley, (651) 645-7400, x204

<http://www.mmep.net>

The Minnesota Minority Education Partnership, Inc. is a nonprofit that seeks to increase the success of Minnesota students of color in Minnesota schools, colleges and universities. They work closely with students, communities of color and representatives from education, business, government and nonprofits to develop programs that help students of color succeed academically.

Issue Area Coordinator: Sue Xiong, x6040 or
sxiong@macalester.edu

Updated June 2009

RELATED LINKS

West Metro Education Program (WMEP)

<http://www.wmep.k12.mn.us>

WMEP is a group of 11 Minneapolis school districts, both suburban and urban, working in consortium to address issues of integration in public schools. The site includes information for families living in the west metro area to improve the quality of their children's education, as well as helpful resources for anyone looking to learn about issues of integration and equal education opportunities.

Students.Gov

<http://www.students.gov>

This official United States government web site is designed for college students and their families. Provides access to information and resources to help students choose the right college, apply for financial aid/scholarships, find summer internships or jobs, etc.

Pathways to College Network

<http://www.pathwaystocollege.net>

This network strives to improve access to higher education for children from low-income, poorly represented or minority backgrounds through research and the propagation of information. The site includes online access to reports, studies and other resources for middle school, high school, and college students, as well as teachers, parents and counselors.

College is Possible (CIP)

<http://www.collegeispossible.org>

College is Possible is a youth development program of the American Council on Education (ACE), a program committed to helping middle and high school students attend college, with an emphasis on college access for those students from underserved communities. CIP strives to build connections between colleges and the schools in their surrounding communities. The website includes resources for choosing, preparing, and paying for college.

Mapping Your Future

<http://mapping-your-future.org>

This website contains tips, articles and links to other online resources for planning for college and careers. Whether you are a middle school student, a graduate student, or parent, this website has information specifically tailored to you and your demographic.

Plan for College-College Board

<http://www.collegeboard.com/student/plan>

This website provides resources for planning and preparing for college in high school. It emphasizes not just academic preparation for high school students, but also the transition to college life that must be addressed and prepared for.

Adventures in Education (AIE)

<http://www.adventuresineducation.org>

Adventures in Education is a non-profit organization that works to help students go to college through its accessible website (available in English and Spanish). The site contains links, tips, and articles for everyone from middle school students to parents.

College Access Volunteer Opportunities

Admission Possible

450 North Syndicate Street, #200
St. Paul, MN 55104

Contact: (651) 917-3525

<http://www.admissionpossible.org>

Admission Possible is a nonprofit organization dedicated to helping promising, low-income students from the Twin Cities obtain admission to college.

Advancement Via Individual Determination (AVID)

Various St. Paul Public School Sites

Contact: Darlene Fry, (651) 793-5532

<http://www.avidonline.org>

AVID targets students in the academic middle who have the intention of going to college and the willingness to work hard. Volunteers apply to a specific high school in St. Paul or Minneapolis to work as tutors with a small group of students. Their teaching methodology is based on the Socratic Method, where tutors emphasize students' inquiries, rather than lectures.

Breakthrough Collaborative

2051 Larpenteur Avenue

St. Paul, MN 55109

Contact: Emily Stahly, (651) 748-5504

<http://www.breakthroughsaintpaul.org>

Breakthrough Saint Paul is a program that helps highly motivated, under-resourced middle school students from St. Paul Public Schools succeed in rigorous honors coursework and get to college. Breakthrough Saint Paul employs a "Students Teaching Students" model of education common to all 29 programs in The Breakthrough Collaborative. For six weeks during the summer and on 13 Saturdays during the school year, students take challenging enrichment classes designed and taught by talented and diverse high school and college students.

Get Ready!

1450 Energy Park Drive, Suite 350

St. Paul, MN 55108

Contact: Eleanor Prudy, (651) 642-0567

<http://www.getreadyforcollege.org>

Get Ready! is an early intervention and college awareness program preparing students from low-income families to get to college. The program prepares elementary, middle and high school students for post-secondary education by providing college planning information, academic tutoring and higher education options. Volunteers can work as career speakers, where they share their career path and experiences to inspire fourth to eight graders about their own career options.

Neighborhood House

179 Robie Street East

Saint Paul, MN 55107

Vol. Coord: SinYing Lee, (651) 789-2500

<http://www.neighb.org>

Neighborhood House is a multi-cultural, multi-lingual center with programs in basic needs, education and youth leadership. Volunteers assist in or teach ELL classes, supervise and tutor youth, or help learners prepare for the GED.

Minnesota Minority Education Partnership

2233 University Avenue West, Suite 220

St. Paul, MN 55114-1698

Contact: Amanda Ziebell-Finley, (651) 645-7400, x204

<http://www.mmep.net>

The Minnesota Minority Education Partnership, Inc. is a nonprofit that seeks to increase the success of Minnesota students of color in Minnesota schools, colleges and universities. They work closely with students, communities of color and representatives from education, business, government and nonprofits to develop programs that help students of color succeed academically.

Issue Area Coordinator: Sue Xiong, x6040 or
sxiong@macalester.edu

Updated June 2009

RELATED LINKS

West Metro Education Program (WMEP)

<http://www.wmep.k12.mn.us>

WMEP is a group of 11 Minneapolis school districts, both suburban and urban, working in consortium to address issues of integration in public schools. The site includes information for families living in the west metro area to improve the quality of their children's education, as well as helpful resources for anyone looking to learn about issues of integration and equal education opportunities.

Students.Gov

<http://www.students.gov>

This official United States government web site is designed for college students and their families. Provides access to information and resources to help students choose the right college, apply for financial aid/scholarships, find summer internships or jobs, etc.

Pathways to College Network

<http://www.pathwaystocollege.net>

This network strives to improve access to higher education for children from low-income, poorly represented or minority backgrounds through research and the propagation of information. The site includes online access to reports, studies and other resources for middle school, high school, and college students, as well as teachers, parents and counselors.

College is Possible (CIP)

<http://www.collegeispossible.org>

College is Possible is a youth development program of the American Council on Education (ACE), a program committed to helping middle and high school students attend college, with an emphasis on college access for those students from underserved communities. CIP strives to build connections between colleges and the schools in their surrounding communities. The website includes resources for choosing, preparing, and paying for college.

Mapping Your Future

<http://mapping-your-future.org>

This website contains tips, articles and links to other online resources for planning for college and careers. Whether you are a middle school student, a graduate student, or parent, this website has information specifically tailored to you and your demographic.

Plan for College-College Board

<http://www.collegeboard.com/student/plan>

This website provides resources for planning and preparing for college in high school. It emphasizes not just academic preparation for high school students, but also the transition to college life that must be addressed and prepared for.

Adventures in Education (AIE)

<http://www.adventuresineducation.org>

Adventures in Education is a non-profit organization that works to help students go to college through its accessible website (available in English and Spanish). The site contains links, tips, and articles for everyone from middle school students to parents.