

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

Mr. I. D. Thomas is a lecturer in the Department of Geography, The University College, Dar es Salaam specialising in population studies.

Mr. S. R. Charsley is a lecturer in anthropology, the University of Manchester. His interest in Bunyoro developed while a research fellow of E.A.I.S.R. at Makerere from July 1965 to December 1966.

Dr. D. N. McMaster is Reader in Geography in the University of Edinburgh, in association with the University's Centre of African Studies, and was formerly Senior Lecturer in Geography at Makerere University College. In 1966 he returned to Makerere as a visiting Professor to the African Studies Programme.

Mr. J. McKay is a member of the research team of the Bureau of Resource Assessment and Land Use Planning, Dar es Salaam which began operations in August 1967.

Mr. D. B. Crapper is in the Office of Natural Development and Planning, Lusaka, Zambia. His paper in this issue is the outcome of research for an M.A. dissertation in Geography at the University of Sussex.

Mr. P. R. Baker is a Goldsmith's scholar who has been a research student at Makerere since 1965 and is about to complete his Ph.D. thesis on the Beef Industry of Uganda.

Dr. J. C. Doornkamp is lecturer in Geography at the University of Leicester and was formerly a lecturer in the Department of Geography, Makerere University College.

Dr. I. L. Griffiths is a lecturer in Geography at the University of Sussex and from September 1967 to September 1968, visiting lecturer to the Department of Geography, Makerere University College. He was also visiting lecturer in Geography at the University of Zambia in 1966.

Mr. W. T. S. Gould is geography master at Namagunga School and graduate in geography of the University College, Dundee.

Professor S. J. K. Baker, Head of the Department of Geography at Makerere University College, 1946-67. He retired from the Chair in May 1967 and has had conferred upon him the title of Professor Emeritus.