POSITION INFORMATION

Employer	St. Paul's School

Title	Summer Teaching Internship
Description	The Advanced Studies Program St. Paul's School www.sps.edu/asp Internships (Summer/Paid) Application Deadline (1/25/17) For College Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors or Recent Graduates June 18 - July 30, 2017 The Advanced Studies Program at St. Paul's School, an academic and residential summer program, offers college level courses to New Hampshire high school students who have just completed their junior year and rank within the top 15-20% of their class. The Program, now in its sixtieth year, is designed to challenge these talented students with educational opportunities that are not available in public high schools. In 2016, a community of 263 students and 80 faculty & staff members (drawn from St. Paul's School and other independent schools, colleges, and public secondary schools) comprised this intensive and concentrated academic program. Students take one major course and a Writing Workshop class. In most major courses a year's worth of work is completed in the 5 -week summer session. In order to provide a teaching and learning experience for college students and recent graduates interested in the teaching profession, the Advanced Studies Program offers internships to those who have completed at least their sophomore year in college and who have a major in or related to one of the courses taught in the Program. The internship is designed primarily for, although not limited to, those considering entering the teaching profession. Interns in each of the twenty major courses meet in class for roughly twenty hours per week. Writing Workshop interns work in class eighteen hours per week. Classes meet Monday through Saturday. ASP internships give rising college juniors, seniors, and graduates an opportunity to gain valuable teaching skills by working with experienced teachers in their chosen subject. This pairing is done early enough to allow for communication and planning between the teacher and intern before the program begins. Interns are very involved in teaching classes, leading discussions with the students, class planning, and evening homework help during study hours. They work closely with their teacher on a daily basis. In addition, interns lead the recreation and extracurricular programs in the afternoons, help supervise the dormitories they live in, and assist with the college
