

S Is for Summer (of service): Interning at the Museum of Russian Art

The Museum of Russian Art (TMORA), is a member-supported nonprofit organization dedicated to the preservation and presentation of all forms of Russian art and artifacts.

Take-a-ways from my experience:

- 1) Understanding how non-profits are funded—not only through monetary capital, but also human capital
- 2) Learning about the day-to-day operations of smaller art museum
- 3) Working at a museum accommodates many different people with different interests

Joshua Sosa

Bonner Community Scholar
Summer of Service Fellowship
2015

New Exhibits

Faces of War: Russia in WW1

Russian Samovars

A samovar or self-boiler, is a metal container traditionally used to heat and boil water.

Accomplishments:

- ◆ Curatorial projects: worked with WW1 documents and Russian nesting dolls
- ◆ Children's Programming: created exhibition based scavenger hunts
- ◆ Media Outreach: contacted media outlets all over the world for the upcoming exhibition
- ◆ Sales/Marketing: developed an excel document to project sales

