MACALESTER COLLEGE FACULTY DEVELOPMENT INTERNATIONAL SEMINAR

*Hybrid Geographies in the Eastern Mediterranean:
A View from the Bosphorus*

May 23 – June 11, 2004

I. INTRODUCTION

Macalester College has conducted to date four Faculty Development International Seminars. The first seminar was held in Hungary in the summer of 1995 with a thematic focus on “Transition and Globalization in Central and Eastern Europe”. The second was conducted in Brazil in the summer of 1997 and emphasized “Landscape, Culture and Globalization”. The third seminar, focusing on “Transformation and Multiculturalism in the New Millennium” took place in South Africa in January of 2000. The fourth seminar was based in Malaysia, examining “Crossroads of Diversity in Southeast Asia” during January 2002.

Building on the foundations of these four seminars, a fifth seminar, in the summer of 2004, aims to further internationalize Macalester’s brand of liberal arts education by engaging participants in an intensive intellectual and cross-cultural seminar in Turkey. This fifth seminar will engage participants in learning about the achievements and challenges of a geographical region that has long contributed to the intellectual and cultural endowment of the world. The format and content of the seminar is designed to fit the intellectual and cross-cultural interests of both Macalester College and our local partners. It focuses on selected themes of great importance to Turkey and the region, while also providing some insights into other issues in the sciences, the arts, the humanities, and the social sciences. The proceedings of the seminar, in the form of commissioned papers by scholars from the region and meditative essays by Macalester participants, will be published in Volume XIII of our journal of international studies, the Macalester International.

An outline of the purpose, structure, theme and subtopics, location and partner institution, expectations, expenses, application and selection process, list of participants, and detailed working schedule follows.

II. PURPOSE

At Macalester College, the internationalization of liberal arts education, faculty (teaching staff), and administrators takes many forms. Among others, these include the hiring of tenure-track professors with diverse cultural backgrounds; the granting of sabbatical and other leaves to pursue international research; visiting international faculty; the International Roundtable, which brings diverse scholars together with our faculty, staff and students on campus each October; opportunities to be involved with study abroad programming and advising (more than 60% of Macalester's U.S. students study overseas as part of their degree programs), and to work with an internationally diverse student body (Macalester enrolls degree-seeking students from some 80 countries worldwide); and other college-wide, departmental or individual undertakings which bring internationalism to campus or take faculty and staff abroad.

The Summer 2004 Faculty Development International Seminar has six explicit and inter-related purposes:

- ❑ To have Macalester participants jointly explore, with host society scholars, practitioners and others, interdisciplinary themes in a particular zone of the world;
- ❑ To foster a community of internationalist scholars among Macalester participants;
- ❑ To provide opportunities for individual Macalester participants and host society counterparts to engage in discussions on topics of shared intellectual interests;
- ❑ To expose Macalester participants to study abroad programs of relevance to our curriculum and of interest to our students;
- ❑ To engage Macalester participants in fruitful discussions with Macalester alumni abroad; and
- ❑ To share Seminar outcomes with a wider community in and beyond Macalester.

III. SEMINAR STRUCTURE

The basic structure of the Seminar includes the following components:

- ❑ Several pre-departure discussions, guest presentations, and orientation meetings at Macalester College upon confirmation of participation in December 2003 and during the Spring Semester 2004.
- ❑ One pre-departure lead commissioned paper (8,000 words), a keynote address, and discussions with a distinguished scholar of the Eastern Mediterranean and Turkey, held at Macalester College in mid-April 2004.
- ❑ Four additional commissioned papers (6,000 words) with on-site presentations and discussions with local scholars.
- ❑ Nine formal oral presentations and group discussions on selected topics of interest to the Macalester participants and of importance to an understanding of the host countries and region.
- ❑ Five days dedicated to Seminar participants' self-designed independent study projects.
- ❑ Several group or individual educational excursions.
- ❑ A Macalester College alumni function in Istanbul.
- ❑ Post-seminar evaluation meetings, discussions, and the publication of participant essays.

IV. THEME AND SUB-TOPICS

The Summer 2004 Macalester Faculty Development International Seminar is designed to help participants grapple - both intellectually and through hands-on personal experience - with compelling issues facing Turkey and the Eastern Mediterranean in this unfolding epoch of globalization. The Seminar is also designed to capture an important moment in Macalester College's fundamental mission of educational excellence in the context of the inter-related ideals of internationalism, multiculturalism, and civic engagement. To help accomplish this, the Seminar includes carefully selected commissioned papers and guest presentations; discussions with scholars and practitioners from various fields; guided and independent visits to cultural, educational, ecological and historical sites; opportunities for independent study and collaboration with colleagues in Turkey (or, by special arrangement, in neighboring countries); visits with families and alumni; and various forums for sharing the experience and the learning gained through the Seminar.

To accomplish the explicit goals of the Seminar, presentations and activities are organized around a broad interdisciplinary theme. The seminar on Hybrid Geographies in the Eastern Mediterranean: A View from the Bosphorus is designed to introduce participants to the history and critical contemporary issues, cultural and intellectual achievements, and selected challenges facing Turkey as a dynamic part of a complex region. The overall theme and sub-topics are designed both to be focused enough to add depth to the content of the seminar and supple enough to stimulate each individual participant's intellectual interests.

The primary site of the seminar sessions is Istanbul, a city thick with history and culture that stands on the Bosphorus as a threshold to both Europe and Asia.

The seminar coordinators, the participants themselves and our collaborators in the region jointly craft the sub-topics of the seminar. Commissioned papers, oral presentations, educational excursions, individual explorations, and group discussions engage participants in a wide variety of topics with the overall aim to provide a panoramic introduction to the region's life and culture.

- A. The five major areas of inquiry addressed through commissioned papers include the following:
- ❑ Hybrid Geographies in the Eastern Mediterranean: Turkey as a Country of Tensions. This lead paper and keynote presentation is meant to provide a sweeping history of the region, with special focus on both the Ottoman Empire and contemporary Turkey.
  - ❑ Secularism and Islam: The Building of Modern Turkey. With a special focus on the history of contemporary Turkey, this paper grapples with questions of governance and religious identity, as well as with the imperatives of leadership and the challenges and successes of building democratic societies.
  - ❑ Turkey and the European Union: Challenges and Consequences of Pre-Accession. This includes explorations of how domestic politics have been affected by Turkey's relationship with the European Union as it undertakes the reform process. Special attention is given to the challenges and consequences of pre-accession.
  - ❑ The Cyprus Question. Here our focus is on the history and lived experience of Greek and Turkish Cypriots in a deeply divided society. Special focus is placed on the history of relations between Greece and Turkey and on the debates around the reconciliation and re-unification.
  - ❑ Earthquake Research and Rapid Response. From perspectives both scientific and social, this paper addresses Turkey's deep geology and the consequences of instability.

B. Additional subtopics pursued through oral presentations and discussions include:

- ❑ The Ottoman Empire: Institutional Change and Longevity
- ❑ The History and Architecture of Istanbul and the Mosques of Sinan
- ❑ Atatürk: Biography and Legacy for Modern Turkey
- ❑ The Kurdish Question
- ❑ Contemporary Turkish Literature and the Creative Imagination
- ❑ Trans-border Water Issues
- ❑ The Cyprus Question
- ❑ Earthquake Research and Rapid Response
- ❑ Uneven Development, Finance and Industry in Turkey
- ❑ The Political Economy and Women Labor Issues in Turkey

C. Related group educational excursions or individual visits may include the following:

- ❑ An Istanbul City Excursion focusing on historical, religious and architectural sites and the Old City (e.g. the Kariye Mosque; the Selymaniye Mosque; the Hippodrome; monuments of Sultanahmet Square; Blue Mosque; Aya Sofya; Covered Bazaar).
- ❑ Museum of Islamic and Turkish Art
- ❑ The Kandilli Earthquake Research Center
- ❑ The Bosphorus
- ❑ The Turkish Stock Market
- ❑ Archeology Museum
- ❑ The Classical World of Efes/Ephesus

V. SEMINAR SITE AND PARTNERS

The primary site of the academic program, apart from those which Seminar participants may visit in conjunction with their independent projects, is Istanbul. The seminar's main partner institution is Bogaziçi University (Bosphorus University). Among the many Bogaziçi University faculty and staff who are involved in this seminar, key individuals include:

Tamer Atabarut, Director, Lifelong Learning Center, Bogaziçi University

Zeynep Deniz Gökçen, Assistant Director, Lifelong Learning Center, Bogaziçi University

Kemal Kirisci, Department of Political Science & International Relations, Bogaziçi University

Sevket Pamuk, Vice-Rector for Academic Affairs, Bogaziçi University

VI. SEMINAR EXPECTATIONS

Following are the College's expectations of Macalester participants in this seminar:

- ❑ To engage actively in all seminar presentations, discussions, field visits, and alumni events in Turkey, as well as in all related meetings at Macalester both prior to departure and upon return.
- ❑ To undertake independent reading about the Eastern Mediterranean and Turkey, both in areas of academic interests and beyond as an effort toward further development of intellectual peripheral vision.
- ❑ To undertake abroad an independent study project on a pre-selected topic and to be in contact, both during the seminar and beforehand, with resource people abroad who could provide suggestions on the independent study project.
- ❑ To facilitate discussion and to lead at least one seminar session abroad in collaboration with the relevant presenter.
- ❑ To prepare an abstract on an area of academic expertise and, if invited, to give a presentation on this topic for a host institution or community group in Turkey;
- ❑ To write a meditative essay (3,000 words) based on the independent study project, observations, journal notes, and Seminar learning and to have this essay ready for publication in the Macalester International by August 13, 2004.
- ❑ Due to the nature of the seminar and local arrangements, it is Macalester's policy that no spouses, friends or dependents may accompany seminar participants during the seminar dates.

VII. SEMINAR EXPENSES

Macalester College covers most of the direct administrative and academic costs of Seminar design, implementation and evaluation, as well as the cost of honoraria and expenses for speakers and authors. Our co-sponsoring institution in Turkey may provide facilities and other in-kind support, administrative assistance, and support toward receptions. Macalester College provides funding for the following Macalester participant expenses:

- ❑ International Group Airfare (or a travel allowance)
- ❑ Single-room accommodation and breakfast (or breakfast stipend)
- ❑ Some working lunches
- ❑ Convening and closing dinners or lunches
- ❑ Basic room and board allowance during the independent study period
- ❑ An international teacher identification card that includes additional insurance

Macalester participants themselves will be expected to cover other costs, including:

- ❑ Most dinners and some lunches
- ❑ Passport, visa fees, supplemental insurance (if desired)
- ❑ Personal travel, including travel during the independent study period and local commuting
- ❑ Optional excursions
- ❑ Tips, personal items, gifts for hosts, and incidentals

VIII. APPLICATION AND SELECTION

All tenured, tenure-track, and adjunct faculty at Macalester College are invited to apply for Faculty Development International Seminars. In addition, one or two places may be available for strategically identified administrator applicants. Following the Monday November 10, 2003 application deadline, the Advisory Committee on International Studies and Internationalism (ACISI) reviews and ranks applications and makes its recommendations to the Faculty Professional Activities Committee (FPAC). Items requested in the application include the following:

- ❑ A concise statement (2-3 pages) outlining how the applicant envisions the seminar contributing to scholarship, teaching, and advising at Macalester; and how the applicant could help contribute to the seminar's explicit purposes.
- ❑ An outline, in the form of a brief narrative abstract (2-3 paragraphs), of an initial idea for an independent study project to be undertaken during the seminar and later presented as part of a meditative essay for publication in the Macalester International.
- ❑ A working title and brief abstract (2-3 paragraphs) of a guest presentation in an area of academic expertise that the participant would be willing to provide if invited by a host institution or community organization in Turkey.
- ❑ An updated curriculum vitae.
