

Report!

The West Point Undergraduate Historical Review
Volume 8, Issue 2 (Spring 2017)

A Call for Papers

Deadline: April 7th 2017

Report is a historical journal dedicated to the publication of exceptional undergraduate research and analysis. In the past, we have published articles on a wide variety of subjects and historical time periods. We are simply looking for the best work offered by undergraduate historians. Submissions are peer reviewed by an interdisciplinary undergraduate staff with the assistance of faculty from the West Point History Department. The journal is published both online and in print during the fall and spring semesters. Please visit the journal homepage at:

Submission Guidelines

Authors may make submissions by emailing their work to Report.hist.usma@gmail.com.

Submitted work must be under thirty pages in length and formatted in accordance with the Chicago Manual of Style. Furthermore, we ask that you do not submit works already submitted to or published by other academic journals. Please keep in mind that revision and additional research may be requested after editorial review. We look forward to reading your work!
