Doug Macomber and I had our P.O. Boxes side by side all four years.
We were always kidding and jostling when we'd meet between classes. Then in our Senior year we shared the stage in the black box production of The Lion In Winter and in January we were on the interim theater tour to London.
Our friendship was cemented and until his death we kept in touch.

He was pure fun and unconditionally loving. I miss him.
